Our Community:

K'Tigaaning Midwives (KTM) is a small Indigenous-focused practice, on Nipissing First Nation, adjacent to North Bay, Ontario. We also have a satellite office in Powassan (not currently in use due to the pandemic), a half-hour south in a community which hosts many Amish families. We serve these main communities and all outlying areas. We are committed to work-life balance and support each other when time off is required.

KTM is located 3 ½ hours north of Toronto. It is situated in a region that is considered a paradise for any outdoor enthusiast as we are surrounded by lakes, trails, as well as downhill and cross-country skiing facilities. You can still be on call and enjoy a variety of leisure activities.
